FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RAYTOWN MAN SENTENCED FOR $90,000 FRAUD INVOLVING 22 WOMEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo. – Todd P. Graves, United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri, announced that a Raytown, Mo., man was sentenced in federal court today for a wire fraud and bank fraud scheme in which he initiated romantic relationships with 22 different women in order to steal more than $90,000 from 16 financial institutions.

Ryan S. Blevins, 29, of Raytown, was sentenced by U.S. District Judge Fernando J. Gaitan, Jr., this morning to five years in federal prison without parole. The court also ordered Blevins to pay $90,680 in restitution to the victims of his fraud scheme.

On Dec. 29, 2003, Blevins pleaded guilty to wire fraud and bank fraud. Blevins admitted that he developed personal or romantic relationships with 22 different women. Blevins used those relationships for the purpose of either stealing checks, passing forged checks or receiving wire transfers of stolen money, Graves said. Blevins admitted that he received a total of $90,680 in the scheme that started on Feb. 5, 2001, and lasted until April 3, 2003.

Graves explained that Blevins told these women that he needed to deposit a check – either an employment paycheck, payments from selling cars, or money provided to him by friends or family members – but that he did not have a checking account. In reality, the checks were either stolen, forged, or insufficiently funded.

After the women deposited the checks into their bank accounts, Blevins would ask the women to give him cash, wire him money, or write a check. The women provided Blevins with cash or written checks before they learned the checks deposited into their account were fraudulent and insufficiently funded.

Specifically, Blevins admitted that his fraud scheme included a $6,000 wire transfer from Falls City, Neb., to Raytown, Mo.

Blevins also admitted that between Aug. 1, 2002, and Sept. 31, 2002, he told one of his victims that his sister had been arrested and he needed checks written to a bondsman (who turned out to be a second victim). Blevins assured her that the bondsman would hold the checks without cashing them, and she provided him with one check for $1,400 and another check for $1,950, both insufficiently funded. Blevins gave those checks to his second victim, telling her that he had sold a car to a woman and wanted to deposit the checks in her bank account. The second victim deposited the checks and gave Blevins cash.

Blevins also admitted that on Nov. 5, 2002, he stole personal checks from this second victim and made them payable to a third victim, for a total of $10,400. The third victim, who was also told the checks came from the sale of a car, deposited the stolen checks into her own bank account along with a third, $5,000 check from Blevins' second victim. The third victim then wrote checks for Blevins for a portion of the deposits.

This case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney K. Michael Warner. It was investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Raytown, Mo., Police Department.
